In January 2020, Zac was diagnosed with epilepsy.

It took time for him and his family to come to terms with this life changing news. Whilst coping with lockdown and home schooling, Zac was trying to find the right medication.

It was a tough time. Young Epilepsy worked with Zac, his family, and his school. We helped him realise that having epilepsy wasn't as scary as he thought. It wasn't going to stop him doing things.

In July 2020 Zac blew us away by completing an 8-mile run to celebrate his 8th birthday raising an incredible £2,525!

Now he knows what is possible, Zac has decided to continue to run for Young Epilepsy on his birthday every year.

Can you challenge yourself like Zac did?

Keeping your activity safe and legal

It's important to make sure that your fundraising event is safe and legal as well as fun and successful! We don't want to make it daunting, but here are a few things you need to know.

Collecting money from the public

Depending on the type of fundraising you are carrying out, there may be specific rules and regulations you must follow. To make sure you're fundraising legally, you should request permission from the owner before collecting money and selling goods on private property. Similarly, you will need to request permission from your local authority if you wish to collect or sell in public. Contact us if you would like our help.

Promotional materials

If you create any fundraising materials for your activities, they should clearly state you are fundraising 'in aid of Young Epilepsy registered charity number 311877.' If you would like to include our logo or images, please get in touch first so we can supply high quality versions for you.

Health and safety

When fundraising for Young Epilepsy, it's important to consider the health and safety of everyone involved. The HSE offers some great guidance here and feel free to contact us if you would like any further advice.

We adhere to the Fundraising Regulator's Code of Fundraising Practice. We also operate a complaints handling procedure if you are ever unhappy with any of our services.
